On my way to school, I took some photos. I want to share with you.

*In the morning, the beach was dry.
The water was low.*

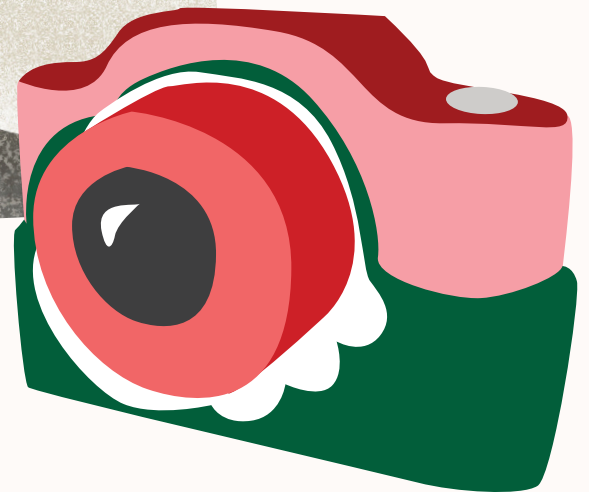

Now in the afternoon, the water is high.
I can no longer walk on the beach.

*In the morning, I saw two sea snails.
They were going somewhere.*

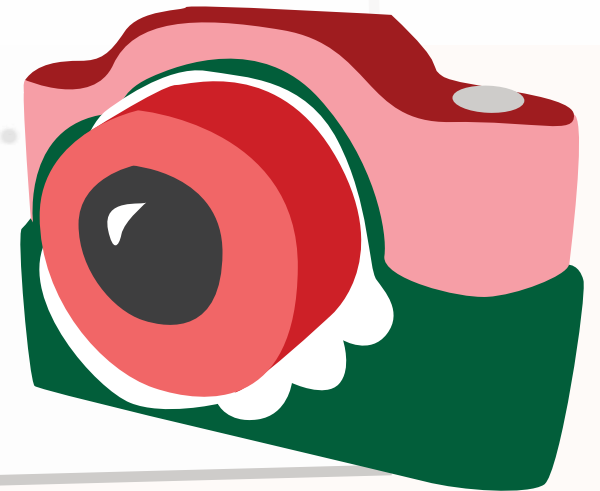

Now in the afternoon, the sea snails are not here anymore. But two fish are swimming in the water.

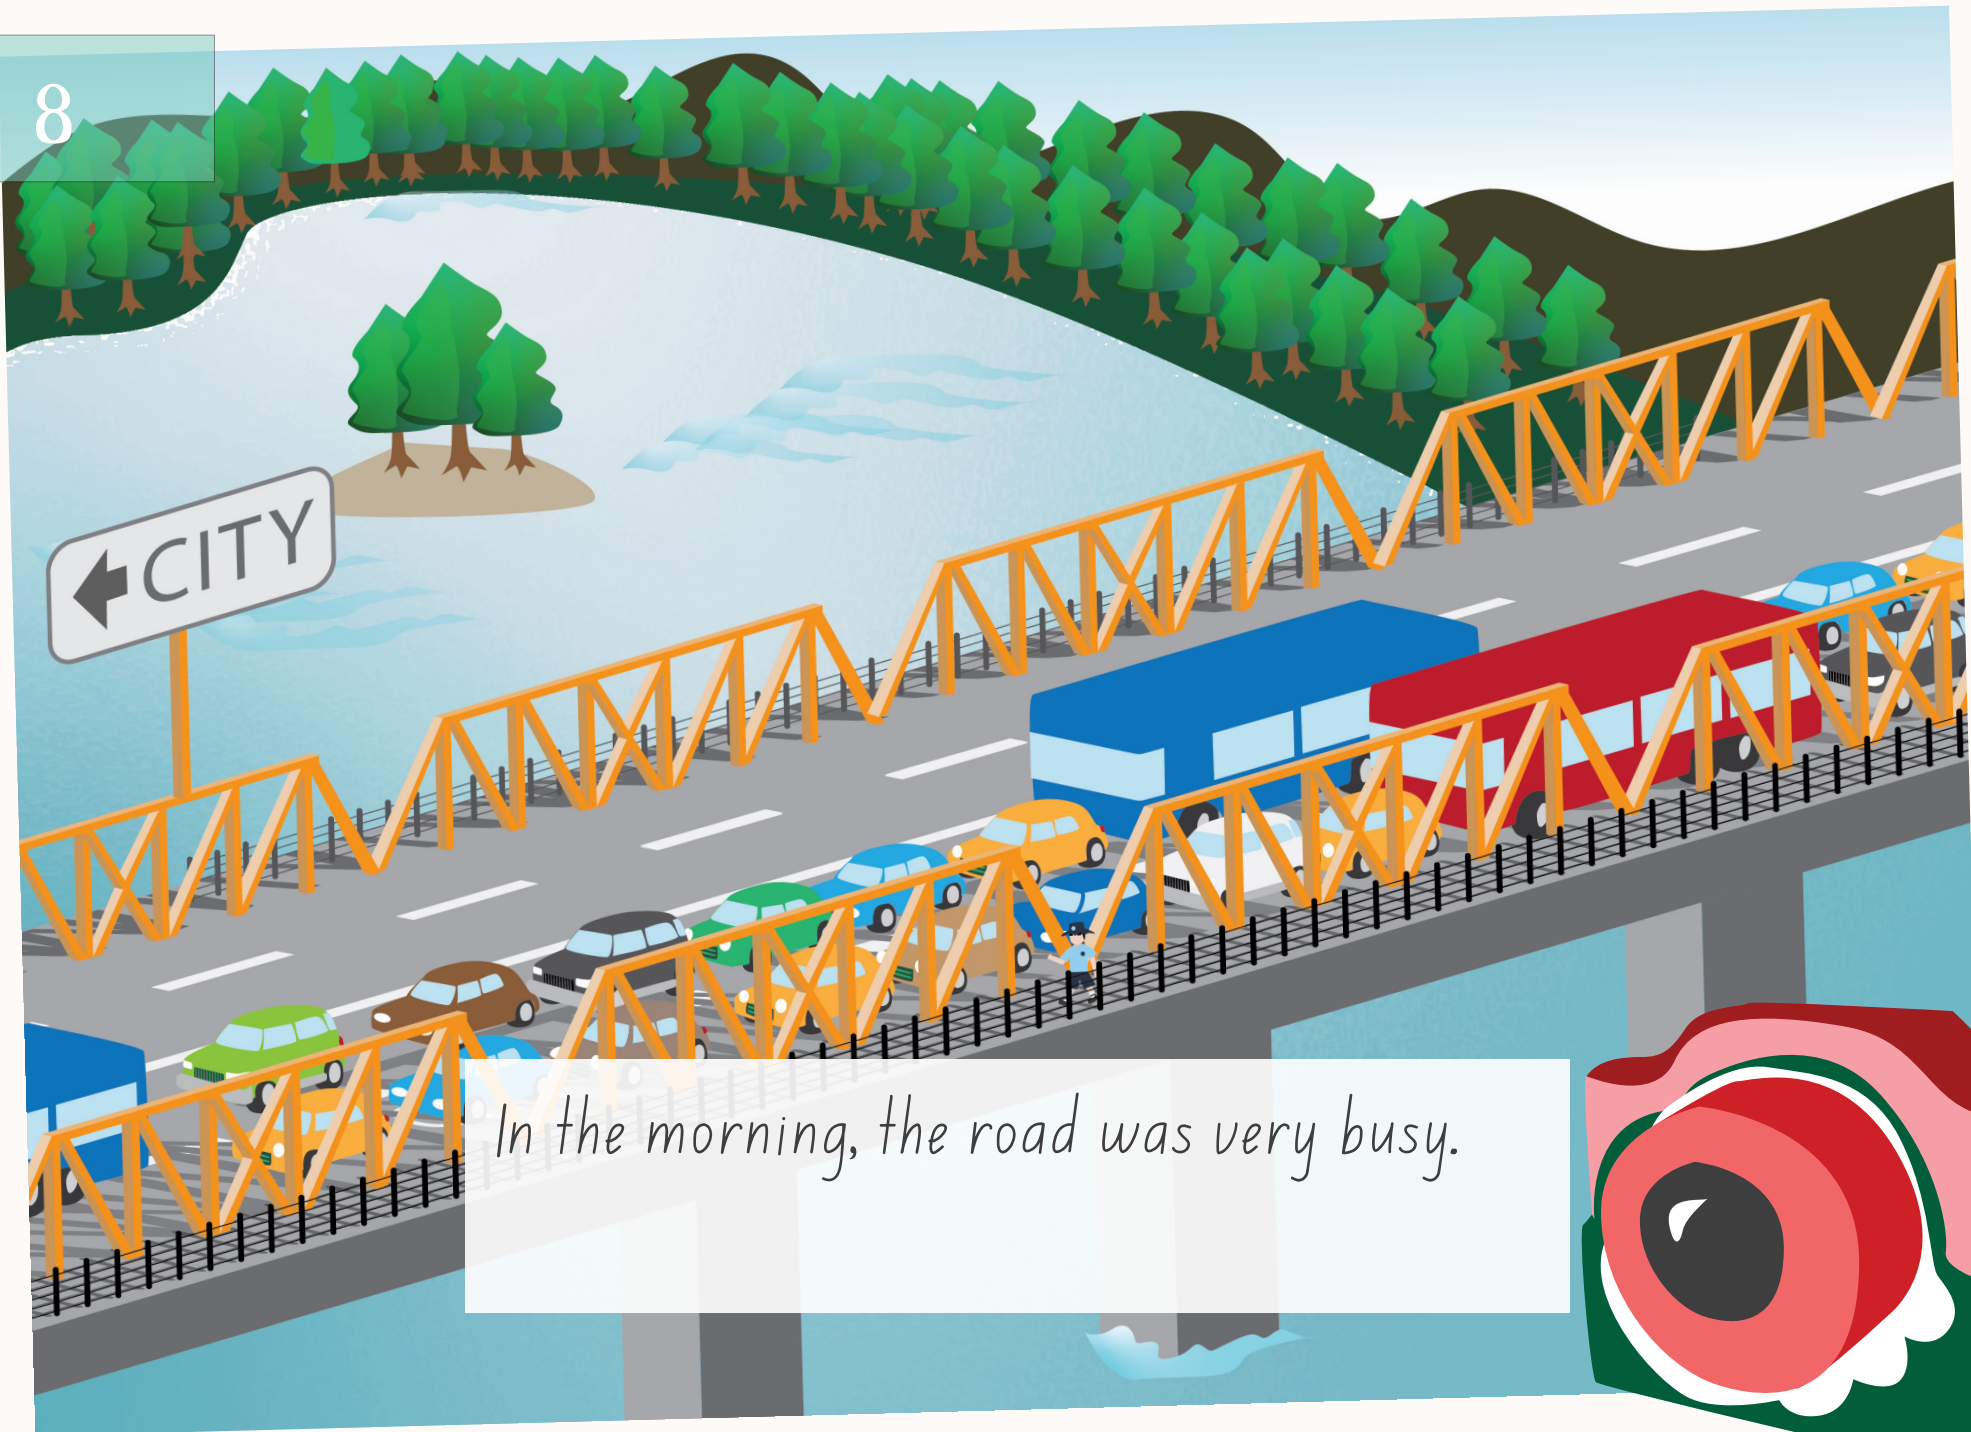

In the morning, the frangipani flowers were so beautiful.

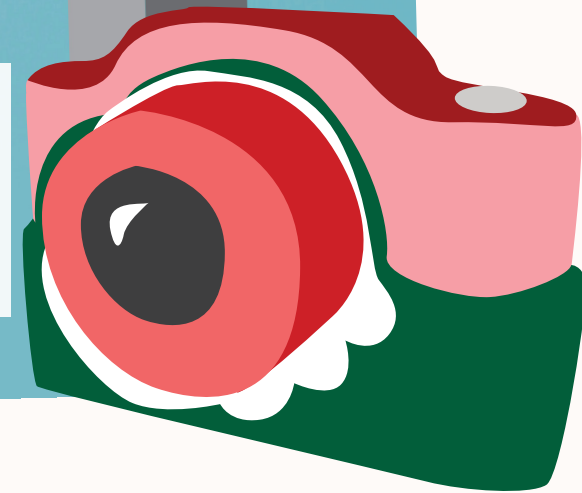

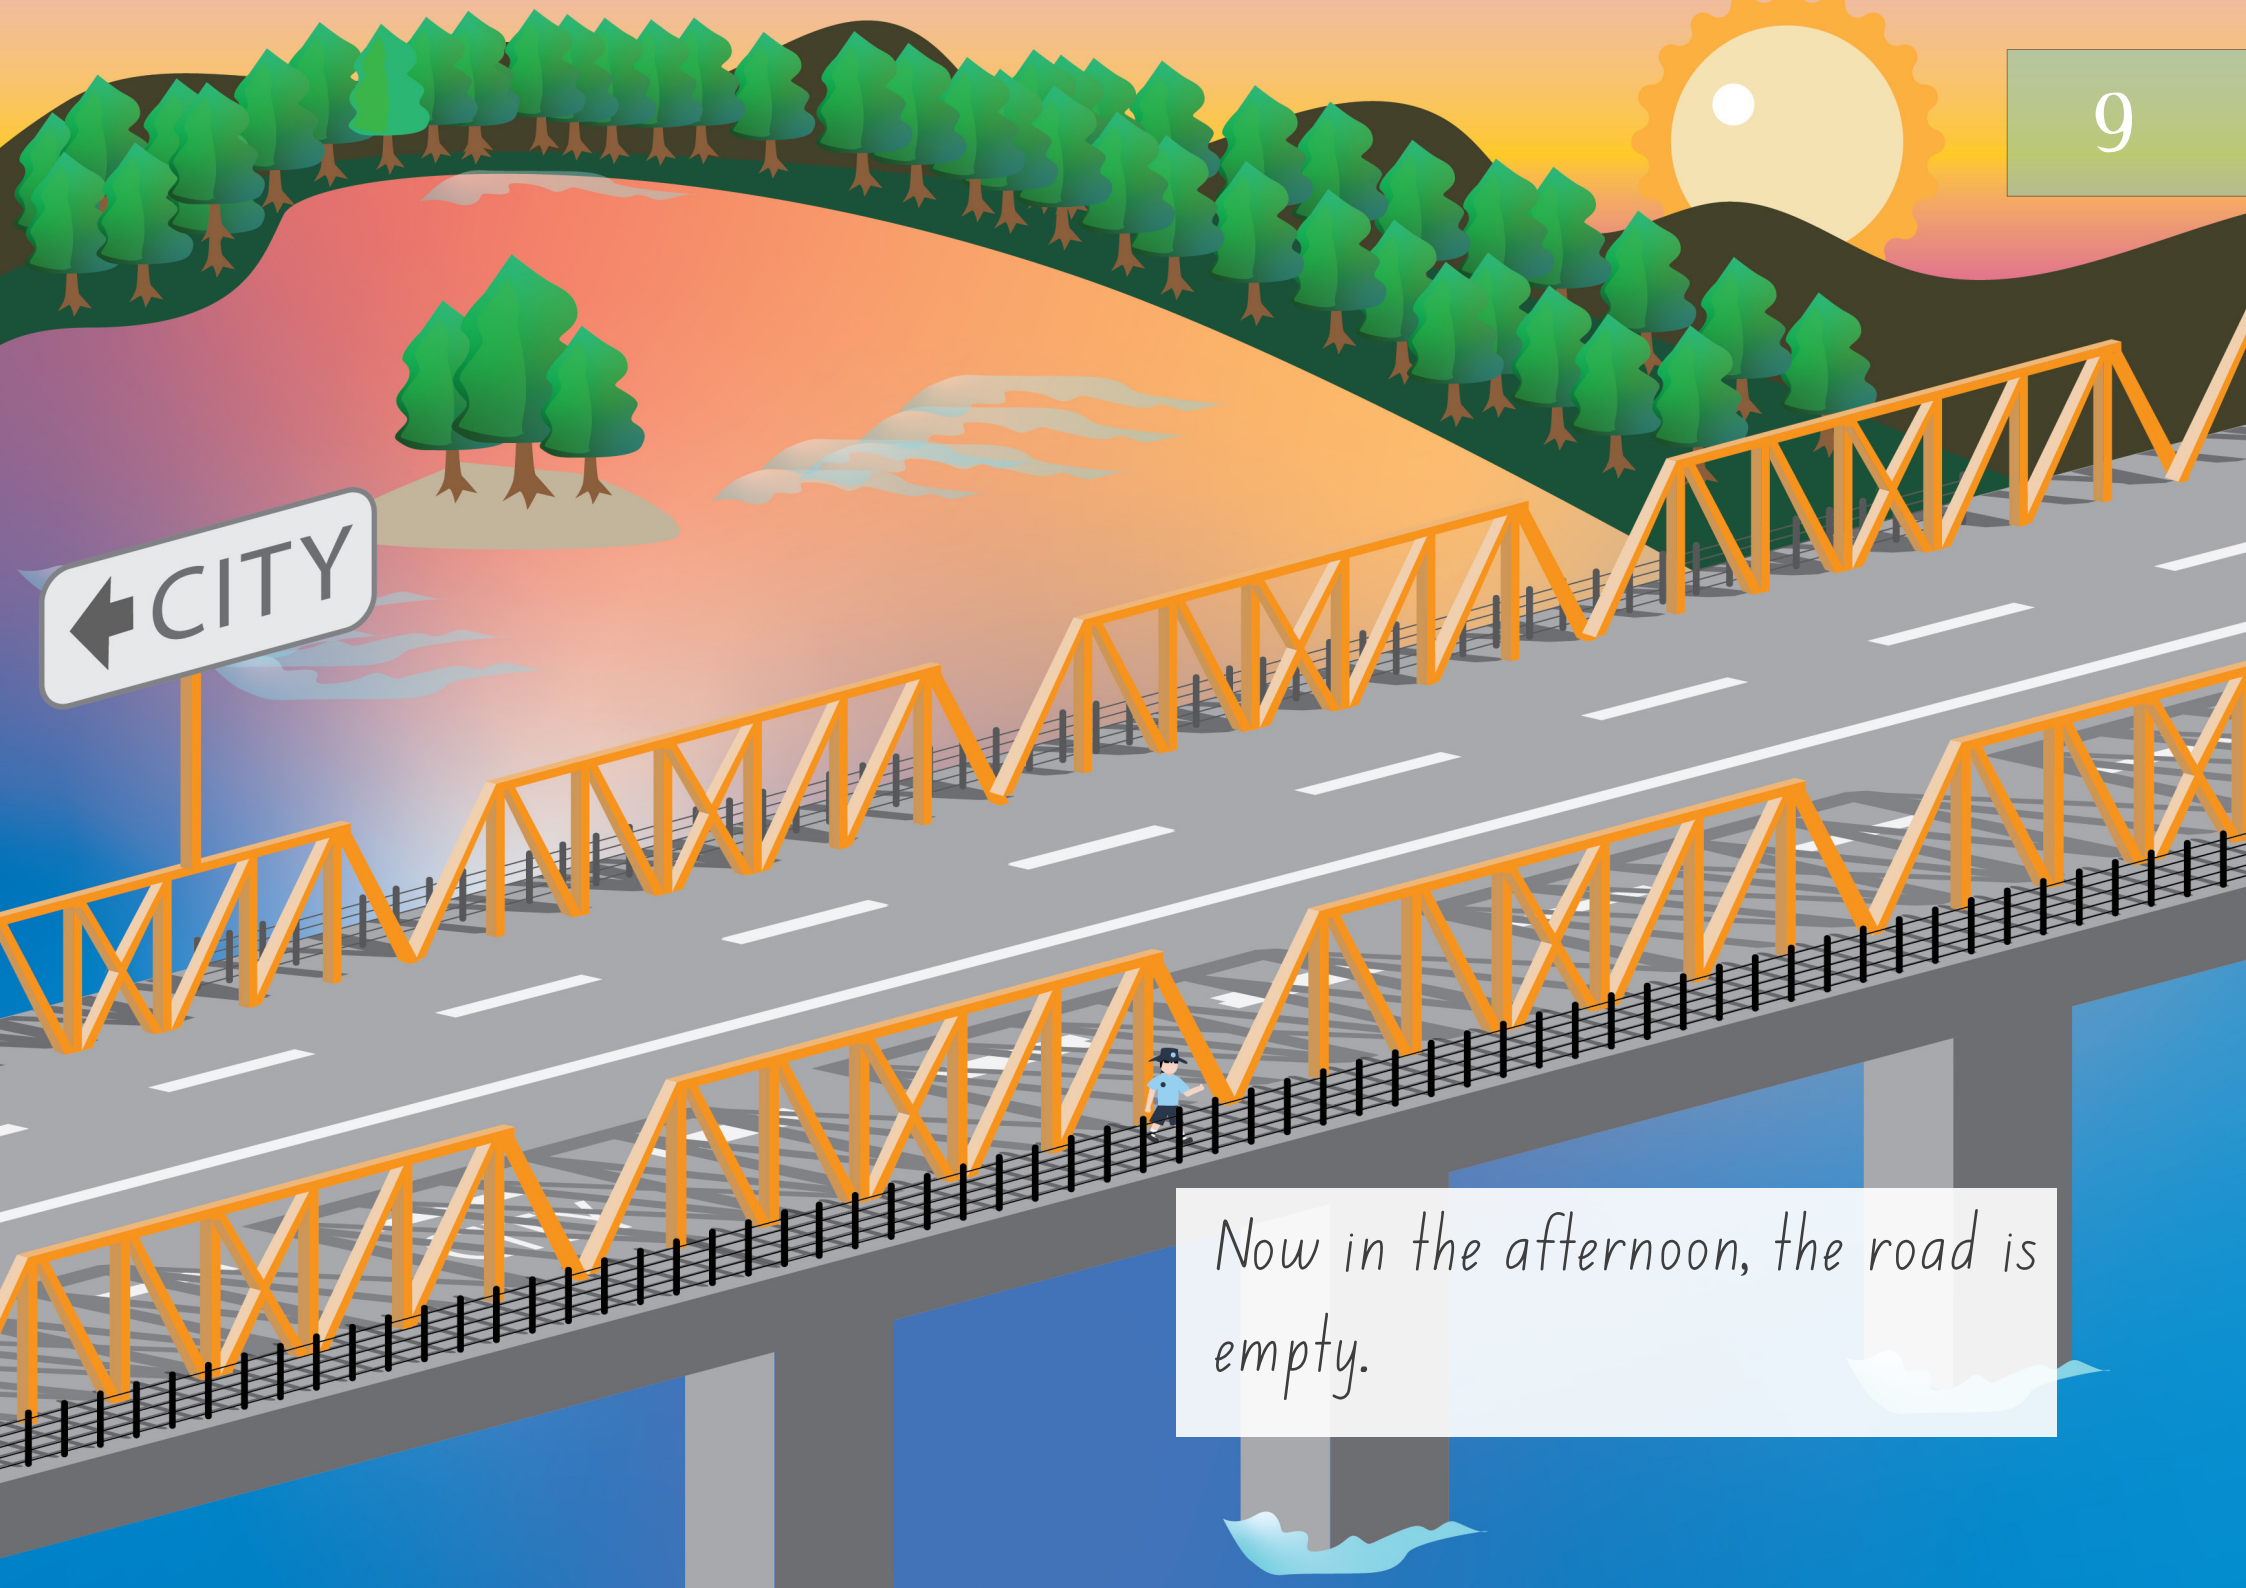

Now in the afternoon, the frangipani petals are on the ground. I can pick them up and bring them home.

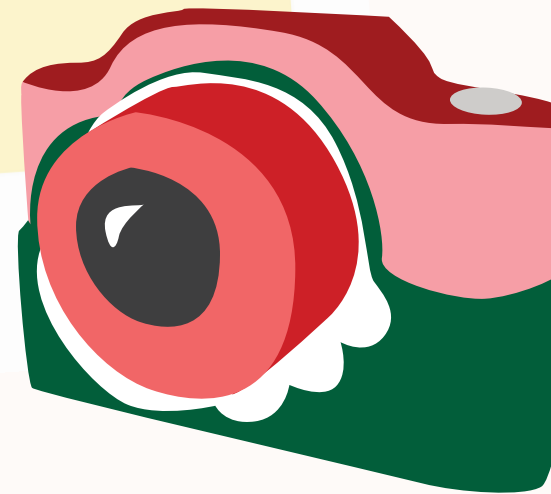

In the morning, the road was very busy.

Now in the afternoon, the road is empty.

In the morning, mummy made my lunch.
They were very nice.

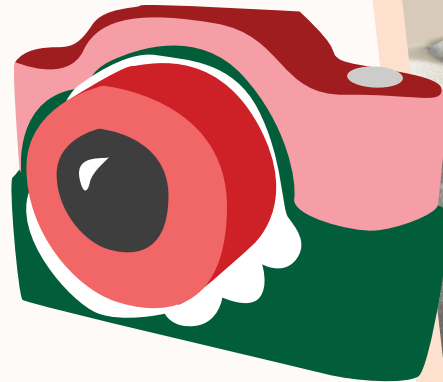

Now in the afternoon, my lunch boxes are empty. And I am hungry again.

Mummy says: "Dinner is ready.
Who is hungry?"

I love the photos I took.
They are so interesting.
